All Comments:

Peter Bengtson, Self: Wow! this is a bad bill. Arizona is mostly a desert. Projections are for dryer conditions in the future. Colorado river water may be cut and you want to allow subdivisions to move ahead without demonstrating adequate water. 'Don't do this.; Fred Haggerson, Self: Please don't allow towns to opt out of county ordinances requiring a proposed subdivision that is located outside of an Active Management Area (AMA) to demonstrate an adequate water supply before the final plat for the subdivision can be approved.; Elna Otter, Self: This is a very short-sighted bill whose effect will be to reduce the protections of Arizona's waters. The authorship as well as current laws suggest that this is an attack on the San Pedro, one of Arizona's major environmental treasures.; Gary Beverly, Self: Do not weaken water law to benefit one developer that has bought a legislator! Water management should be by hydrologic boundaries, not by political favoritism.; Barbara Burkholder, Self: Given water shortages & dropping water tables in some parts of AZ, it is essential that a 100-year water supply be assured before any developments are approved/built. This bill weakens the "assured water supply" standard. Please vote NO.; Ann Hutchinson, Self: Please vote NO on this bill. It ignores the need for insuring we have future water adequacy, and endangers the health of our aquifers, streams, rivers, and springs. Vote NO --protect Arizona's limited water supply.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SB 1268

adequate water supply requirements; municipalities

Prime Sponsor: Senator Griffin, LD 14

DP Committee on Agriculture, Water and Lands

X Caucus and COW

House Engrossed

OVERVIEW

SB 1268 allows municipalities located in counties that have adopted an adequate water supply ordinance to opt out of the ordinance.

PROVISIONS

1. Allows municipalities located in a county that has adopted an adequate water supply ordinance prior to the effective date of this Act to adopt an ordinance exempting the municipality from the county's ordinance.
2. Permits municipalities that adopted an ordinance to opt out of the county's adequate water supply requirement to adopt a local adequacy ordinance.
3. Removes the requirement for DWR to notify municipalities when a county adopts an adequacy ordinance.
4. Makes technical and conforming changes.

CURRENT LAW

Laws 2007, Chapter 240 allowed counties, cities and towns located outside of Active Management Areas (AMA) to adopt an ordinance requiring new subdivisions to have sufficient groundwater, surface water or effluent of adequate quality to satisfy the needs of the proposed use for at least 100 years. A county board of supervisors may adopt, by majority vote, an adequacy ordinance that prohibits municipalities within the county from approving a new subdivision unless the subdivision has an adequate water supply (A.R.S. §§ 9-463.01(J), 11-823).

Municipalities located in counties that have not adopted an ordinance may adopt a local adequacy ordinance to require new subdivisions demonstrate that an adequate water supply exists before the final plat can be approved. A municipality that enacts a local adequacy ordinance must notify the Department of Water Resources (DWR), Department of Environmental Quality, the Real Estate Commissioner and the board of supervisors of the county in which the city is located (A.R.S § 9-463.01(O)).

Under current law, real estate developers must follow certain requirements when subdividing land. When a developer applies for approval of a subdivision that is outside an AMA, DWR determines if the subdivision will have an adequate or inadequate water supply. An adequate water supply is one that will be available for current and committed uses for at least 100 years. The one hundred year supply must be physically, legally and continuously available.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Cochise and Yuma counties and the towns of Clarkdale and Patagonia have adopted adequate water supply ordinances.

Caucus/COW

Office of the Mayor

The Honorable Representative Brenda Barton
Chairwoman, House Agriculture and Water Committee
1700 W Washington St.
Phoenix, AZ 85007

SUBJECT: Support for SB 1268

Dear Chairwoman Barton,

I write to you and your committee in full support of SB 1268. I regret I am unable to appear in person as I will be in Washington, D.C., while this bill is heard in your committee.

On behalf of my City Council and our citizens, the requested change to the current law is strictly a concern about reestablishing Local Control. Let me explain what I mean by Local Control. I am sure you and members of your committee are well aware, that both the Counties and Municipalities of this state are separate political subdivisions of the State of Arizona under current Arizona Statutes.

When the current law was enacted, Counties were authorized to force municipalities to comply with actions taken solely by the County, making municipalities political subdivisions of the County. This was allowed despite the Municipalities being authorized, under the same law, to act on their own to make their own decisions about zoning and platting requirements. Our aim in amending the current law via SB 1268 is simply to reestablish municipalities legal place as a separate political subdivision of the State.

As stated in the Senate Committee hearing minutes, SB 1268 has the support of Cochise County Supervisors Pat Call and Ann English. It is also supported by Benson Mayor Toney King, Douglas Mayor Danny Ortega, Huachuca City Mayor Ken Taylor, Tombstone Mayor Dusty Escapule, Wilcox Mayor Robert Irvin, and myself.

I request this letter be placed in the minutes of your committee hearing. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Frederick W. Mueller
Mayor

OVERVIEW

SB 1243 requires the Game and Fish Commission (Commission) to enter into a memorandum of understanding with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service regarding Mexican gray wolves and specifies information the Game and Fish Department (Department) must report to the Commission.

PROVISIONS

1. Requires the Commission to enter into a MOU with the USFWS regarding the Mexican gray wolf that stipulates the release, translocation or cross-fostering of wolves may not occur within three miles of state trust or private land or without a DNA profile on each wolf.
2. Requires the Department to report the following at each Commission meeting:
 - a. Any known death of a wolf and, if known, the cause of death;
 - b. The number of wolves that are supplemented with feed and the cost of supplementation;
 - c. The number of wolves captured by the Department or any partnering federal agency, the reason for capture and the DNA profile of each wolf captured;
 - d. The location of all collared wolves; and
 - e. All human and domestic animal incidents that involve a wolf.
3. Contains a severability clause.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The USFWS is the lead agency responsible for recovery of the Mexican gray wolf. In an attempt to protect the wolf, the USFWS approved the Mexican Wolf Recovery Plan in 1982 with the prime objective of conserving and ensuring the survival of the species by maintaining a captive breeding program and re-establishing a viable, self-sustaining population of at least 100 wolves within the historic range of Arizona and New Mexico.

On June 13, 2013, the USFWS announced a proposal to remove the gray wolf (Canis lupus) from the list of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife but maintain the endangered status for the Mexican wolf (Canis lupus baileyi) by listing it as a subspecies (78 FR 35664). In addition, the USFWS proposed to change the current boundaries and management regulations established by the 1998 Final Rule (78 FR 37519).

On January 16, 2015, the USFWS published the final Revisions to the Regulations for the Nonessential Experimental Population of the Mexican Wolf in the Federal Register (80 FR 2512). The revisions include: extending the Mexican Wolf Experimental Population Area's (MWEPA) southern boundary from Interstate 10 to the U.S.-Mexico border in Arizona and New Mexico; revising provisions for the allowable take of wolves if necessary to protect livestock or domestic animals; increasing the population objective to 300-325 wolves in the MWEPA; and expanding the initial release area for wolves released from captivity.
